The annual Stan Wiley, Inc., Realtors picnic was held at Blue Lake Park in the Portland countryside one summer Saturday in 1977. The flavor was down-home country and entire families came. There was a hot air balloon, baseball, tug of war and games and races for the children. And then there was the first annual Stan Wiley Cook-Off.

Wiley people and their friends brought their favorite dishes and competed for ribbons. Everyone from six-year-old Paula Portinga, daughter of a branch manager, to the grandmother of sales associate Alan Winningham followed regulations and entered "something you can bring on a picnic."

The judges, Elizabeth Gillenwater, food editor of the Oregon Journal; Richard Nelson, assistant to nationally recognized food writer James Beard; and Geneva Jones, home economist at Pacific Power & Light, selected their three favorites in each of the 11 categories—appetizers, miscellaneous salads, green salads, main dishes, baked beans, bread, pies, cakes, cookies, miscellaneous desserts and punches.

They awarded the grand prize to a French glaze strawberry pie entered by sales associate Candy Barnes and complimented all participants on the quality of their entries.

When the Cook-Off was over, all recipes were collected. The Stan Wiley Country Picnic Cookbook compiles the recipes of those Wiley employees, sales associates and friends who participated on that summer day.

Appetizers 1

Appetizers on a picnic? Yes!

Between baseball innings, while you're waiting for the ribs to barbecue or as part of the picnic spread, appetizers fill the bill. Prepare them ahead of time and tuck them away in a corner of the picnic basket.

When the picnic season is over, the same appetizers can be used at the fanciest buffets and cocktail parties.

Sausage Rolls

PUFF PASTRY:

1 cup unsalted butter
2 cups plain flour
Pinch salt
Cold water
Egg

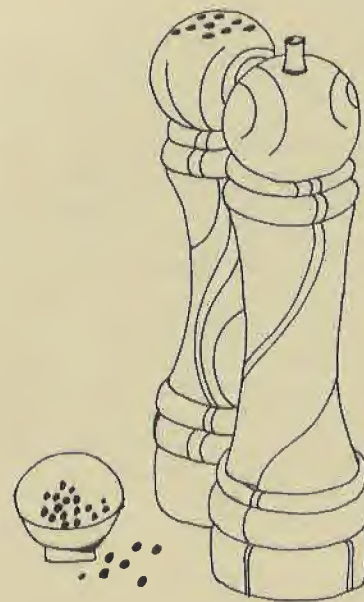

Soften butter slightly with a knife if very hard. Sieve the flour and salt into a mixing bowl. Gradually add enough water to make an elastic dough. Roll out to an oblong shape on a lightly floured board. Place the butter in the center of the pastry dough. Fold the bottom part of the dough over the butter, bring down the top part, turn, seal the ends and "rib" the pastry. Continue rolling and folding as it must be rolled a total of 7 times and folded 7 times. Puff pastry must be kept cool, so put away between rollings.

FILLING:

1 lb. hamburger or ground sausage
1 large onion
1 boiled potato
1 green pepper
Butter
Salt to taste
Pepper to taste

Fry hamburger or sausage. Chop onion, potato and green pepper fine. Saute in butter. Add to meat. Roll out the pastry and cut into strips. These should be wide enough to cover the meat. The pastry must be very thin if using large quantities of meat. Form the meat into long rolls. Lay on the pastry strips. Moisten the edges of the pastry and fold over the filling. Press the edges together and "flake" these with the knife. Cut into required lengths and make several slits on top if you wish. Brush with the egg mixed with water. Put onto baking trays or sheets and bake in the center of a hot to very hot oven (450-475°) for 10-15 minutes, then lower the heat to moderate and cook for another 5-10 minutes, depending on the size of the roll. Serve hot or cold. Makes 8 large, 12 medium, or 18 tiny rolls.

Main Dishes 3

It is no secret that men like to cook, so it came as little surprise that many of the main dish recipes came from the fellows. The judges were so impressed with the Spoon Bread Tamale Bake, they awarded contributor John Dornan an Honorable Mention—a sort of second grand prize.

Main dishes add a kind of heartiness to a picnic spread and can be kept warm in crock pots and chafing dishes.

Spoon Bread Tamale Bake

1 cup chopped onions
1 minced clove garlic
1/2 cup chopped green peppers

1-1/2 T. chili pepper
1/4 t. black pepper
1/2 cup cornmeal

Salt
White pepper
1/2 to 1 cup whipping cream
2 to 3 T. minced chives

Simmer the potatoes and white of leek in the stock or broth, partially covered, for 40-50 minutes until the vegetables are tender. During this time, add salt and pepper to taste and stir every 5 minutes to ensure even temperature control. Puree the soup either in the electric blender, or through a food mill and then through a fine sieve. Stir in the cream. Season to taste, oversalting very slightly as salt loses savor in a cold dish. Chill. Serve in chilled soup cups and decorate with minced chives. Serves 6 to 8.

Homemade breads can serve as a picnic side dish or dessert.

French bread, soda bread, rye bread—all go nicely with meat and salad dishes.

Daphne's French Bread

1 pkg. quick acting yeast
2 cups lukewarm water, separated
4 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 T. sugar
2 t. salt
Melted butter

Dissolve yeast in 1 cup lukewarm water. While yeast softens, sift flour, sugar and salt together in a large bowl then stir in the dissolved yeast. Add just enough of the second cup of water to hold dough together. Mix until you have a soft, rather sticky batter. Cover with a clean cloth. Set bowl in warm spot and let rise until size is doubled. This takes 2 to 4 hours. When dough is high and spongy, punch it down with your fist and give it a good sound beating with your hand. Divide in two parts and place each in a greased 6" round baking dish. Cover again with cloth and let rise until it reaches the top of baking dish. Brush top with melted butter and bake at 400° about 30-40 minutes until nicely browned.

Irish Soda Bread

1/4 cup sugar

1/2 cup raisins
1/2 t. caraway seeds
2 eggs
1-1/4 cups buttermilk
1/4 cup melted shortening

Bake 1 hour in 350° oven.

Pat's Loaf Bread

2 pkg. active dry yeast
1/2 cup warm water
2 cups scalded milk
2 T. salt
1/3 cup sugar
1-3/4 cups water
12 cups all purpose flour
1/4 cup melted shortening

Soften yeast in water. Let stand 5 minutes. Combine milk, salt and sugar. (You may use 1 can evaporated milk and add water to make 2 cups.) Add 1-3/4 cups water. Cool to lukewarm. Add softened yeast. Blend 6 cups of the flour and shortening. Beat well, at least 3 minutes until sponge is very smooth. Add the remaining flour gradually to make a moderately stiff dough. Turn the dough onto a lightly floured board; shape into round ball. Cover with bowl. Let rest 10 minutes. Knead 10 minutes. Use as little flour as possible. Place dough into lightly greased bowl. Roll it around and turn greased side up. Cover bowl with piece of plastic or slightly damp cloth to prevent crusting. Set in warm place (80-85°), away from drafts. Before starting to mix ingredients, Mrs. Rugg turns on her oven to 150° and when that temperature is reached, turns oven off. It is then the ideal place to let your bread rise. Allow dough to rise until double in bulk, about 1-1/2 hours. If in doubt, let dough rise a little longer. When finger is pressed lightly into dough, the imprint remains. Punch down dough by lifting edges across bowl. Repeat around bowl until dough is reduced to original size. Turn dough over with smooth side up. Cover, let rise again for 40 to 45 minutes. Turn dough onto lightly floured board. Divide into 4 parts; shape each into a ball. Cover. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll each ball into a rectangle; turn dough over twice during rolling. Place long edge in front of you. Fold 1/3 of dough towards you; seal. Flatten dough to press out large gas bubbles. Take hold of both ends; lengthen by slapping gently against board. Fold each end over to the center so that the ends overlap. Then seal with heel of hand. Roll dough towards you, jelly roll fashion, sealing edge with heel of hand. Seal ends with side of hand. Place "seam" side down in greased pan. Grease top lightly. Tip: You will have a more attractive loaf by placing it against one side of pan. Cover loaves and let rise until fully doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Keep in warm place. Avoid drafts and uneven temperatures. (The oven, again, is the best spot.) Bread is ready for oven when dough fills the corners and reaches top of pan. Top is rounded and dent remains when loaf is touched lightly with finger. Bake the bread 40-45 minutes at 400°. (If using glass pans, reduce temperature to 350°.) Bread is done when the loaves are golden brown in color and sound hollow when tapped with finger. Remove loaves from pans immediately and place on racks. Do not cool in a draft as this cracks the crust. For a soft crust, brush top of warm bread with softened butter. Cover with a towel until cool.

Everyone has a favorite recipe for pie crust. Therefore, there were just about as many different recipes for crust as there were for pies. Pie is often termed America's favorite dessert and it certainly pleased the Cook-Off judges. They named Candy Barnes' strawberry pie Grand Prize winner.

Miscellaneous Desserts 9

Pies, cakes and cookies are so popular that there was a category for each one of them.

But there were so many varied dessert favorites that another category was also added for creative folks.

In that category, there were all kinds of picnic surprises—cheesecake, torte, strudel, dumplings and even home-made ice cream.

Cheesecake

1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 pkg. zwieback, crushed to fine crumbs
1/2 cup extra fine granulated sugar
1 T. grated lemon peel, divided
2-1/2 lbs. bulk cream cheese
1-3/4 cups sugar
3 T. flour
1-1/2 t. grated orange peel
1/2 t. vanilla
5 eggs, unbeaten
2 egg yolks
1/4 cup whipping cream
Cinnamon-sugar mixture

Have all ingredients at room temperature. Grease bottom and sides of 10" spring-form pan with a little of the butter. Combine remaining butter, zwieback crumbs, extra fine sugar, and half the lemon peel and mix well. Then press on bottom and sides of spring-form pan. Combine cream cheese, sugar, flour, remaining lemon peel, orange peel and vanilla. Beat until smooth and fluffy. Add one whole egg at a time, beating after each addition. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating after each. Stir in cream. Spoon into spring-form pan, spreading evenly. Sprinkle top with cinnamon-sugar and bake in preheated 300° oven for 1 hour. (Do not open door during this time.) Turn off heat and leave in closed oven for 1 hour. Remove from oven; let cool to room temperature slowly away from drafts. Chill overnight. Makes 16 servings. If blueberry topping is desired, just before serving remove cheesecake from pan and spread blueberries in a single layer on the top. (1 cup, approximately, fresh cultivated blueberries.) Without blueberries, cheesecake may be kept in the freezer for a month or longer if left in pan and properly wrapped.
